

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the [Frontend Developer / Content Writer] position at [Company Name]. With a strong foundation in web development and content creation, I bring both technical expertise and storytelling skills to craft engaging digital experiences.

In my role as Head of HRM at Jahangirnagar University Science Club, I led initiatives that improved event participation and strengthened organizational visibility. As a content writer, I authored articles that resonated with audiences and grew our community significantly. These experiences highlight my ability to combine creativity with strategy.

I am proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, and Bootstrap, and I enjoy building responsive, user-friendly interfaces. Beyond technical skills, I value collaboration, clear communication, and continuous learning.

I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your team and discuss how my skills align with your goals. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Syed Kayes Mahmud
